Prices of securities and derivatives may go up or come down which in turn may cause the prices of the Units in the Fund to rise or fall. • You are exposed to currency/foreign exchange risks. The value of the Fund may be affected favourably or unfavourably by movements in currency exchange rates. A Hedged Class allows the Manager to use currency hedging transactions to reduce the effect of exchange rate fluctuations between the currency of an investment of the Fund and the currency in which the relevant Hedged Class is denominated. The effects of hedging will be reflected in the value of the Hedged Class. • You are exposed to credit risk of issuers. The Fund may suffer a loss of interest or principal on any of its holdings if the issuer of the debt obligation defaults on the payments of interest or principal. 	Refer to Section 9 of the Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.

Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to political and repatriation risks. Investments in certain countries may be adversely affected by requirements for approvals, which may be delayed or denied, by restrictions on investment and repatriation of investment proceeds, and by changes in government policies, regulation and taxation. • You are exposed to sustainability risks. The Manager systematically incorporates ESG/sustainability factors, to the extent these present a material risk to the Fund, into its investment and portfolio construction processes. The financial position of investments in the Fund’s portfolio may deteriorate due to material sustainability related risks. • You are exposed to ESG regulatory risks. The regulatory framework with respect to sustainable investments is constantly developing and evolving. The lack of common or harmonised definitions and labels regarding ESG and sustainability criteria or clear guidelines on the required level of disclosure may result in different approaches by asset managers when integrating ESG and sustainability criteria into investment decisions and updating marketing documentation. The performance profile of the Fund may differ more substantially than might otherwise be expected as compared to other investment vehicles with similar objectives. This also means that the approach which has been subjectively selected may potentially differ from positions adopted at a later stage by regulatory authorities, which might entail a reputational risk or be considered as involuntary greenwashing. • You are exposed to derivative risks. The Manager may use FDIs, including futures, options, warrants, forwards, contracts for differences, extended settlement contracts, swaps or swap options for such purposes as may be permitted under the Code and subject to compliance with the limits and/or restrictions (if any) applicable to Excluded Investment Products.
